

FLOCON SERVICES

Sales and Manufacturing

Sales and Service

Flocon is a locally owned Australian company and has been selling Flocon units and other associated products on a national basis for the past 30 years. Flocon's product ranges and technological advances have seen the Flocon unit and products, as the best units supplied within the current maintenance and broader market.

Flocon's dedication to always strive for the best possible customer solutions, is a key element of the business ensuring years of reliable and cost effective service.

Did you know?

Flocon is a distributor of Stanley hydraulic hand held tools, which can be utilised on Flocon units to ensure maximum diversity with job applications for all maintenance requirement and for workshop or field maintenance support with equipment repairs. Our range of hydraulic tools and attachments extend from breakers, drills, impact wrenches etc, call us to send you a brochure.

Manufacturing

Flocon Engineering has been manufacturing Flocon units and associated products for the maintenance and Bitumen Surfacing market for 30 years.

This core element of the business has diversified, giving the market access to new product developments and technological advances, ranging from crack sealers, spreader boxes, power brooms, general and specialised truck bodies etc.

Flocon is consistently looking at both Australian and international markets to ensure that the best quality products are built and produced for both markets, ensuring outstanding quality in technology and performance.

Need service or spare parts on your existing Flocon products?

Our qualified service or spare parts technicians can help

Phone: (03) 9703 2891

Contact Flocon for more information

Phone: (03) 9703 2777 or Fax: (03) 9703 2933

Email: peter@flocon.com.au

Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, Western Australia & Tasmania